2. If you leave the tour or if you do not start the tour, the organizer loses the right to the travel price. Instead, insofar as the rescission or the non-appearance of the trip is not the responsibility of the organizer, and if there is no case of force majeure, the organizer is entitled to appropriate compensation depending on the respective travel price for the travel arrangements made up to the cancellation / non-arrival and his expenses (Withdrawal fees). These withdrawal fees are listed in section 4, taking into account the proximity of the date of withdrawal to the contractually agreed start of travel as a percentage of the travel price.

Usually expenses saved and the otherwise possible alternative use of the travel services are not taken into account.

3. You are not obliged to provide evidence that no or substantially lower costs have been incurred in connection with the rescission or non-travel of the travel, than the expenses indicated by the organizer in the lump sum to be applied in the individual case (see point 4 below).

4. The lump-sum claim for cancellation fees is usually per person / per unit for cancellations:
